

Http://www.israel-now.com

The 9.11 Jewish conspiracy?!?

Has the world gone completely insane? I am sure my readers are mentally well and capable of telling right from wrong but some of the Internet users who visit websites may not all that much about Israel, Israelis and Jewish people.

I will not post the website which triggered this article as to not provide publicity to such a website which in my eyes is racist and antisemitic, but I will tell you that people behind such websites are usually mentally ill, and just as I mentioned before, If you look long enough you can find a connection between a potato and Mars.

Well my anger is really about a group of people that claim that the 9.11 bombing air air-rade however you prefer to call it, is caused by Jewish people! Would you believe such ignorance? Maybe the Jews are to blame on the Haiti earthquake or the Ozone layer? I am quite sure that these people can find the connection given enough time!

The whole idea behind their claim is that the Al Qaida attacks were “motivated” by the US support to Israel, and that Jewish people in the US are the cause for that. Can anything be more absurd than that? The mere thought that such people exist gives me the creeps! I thought they wer all gone when the 3rd Reich disappeared but I guess a few leftovers were left uncleaned.

In any case I will not tell you know how good Jews are to civilization, and how many scientists, Journalists etc. contributed to the human kind, nor will I try to make you sympathize with Jewish history. Just a thought for all those with antisemitic opinions and ideals, you may be next.

Attacking a whole nation\country\religion is never a good thing to do, I know such people don't have high intellect but still some logic may remain in such hateful minds, so what you are doing can easily happen to you no matter what ethnic group you belong to what religion you believe in and how secure you think you are in your country.

Websites like the one I encountered make me feel proud and glad that us Jewish have our own country and can defend ourselves from such narrow minded people, to tell you the truth even though we have our own problems here in Israel, there is no where I would rather live in, no place I will feel as secure as I do in my own country – Israel.